PRESENT THE 1940

OCCIDENTALIA

RECORD OF THE YEAR
AT WESTERN.

VOLUME 14

FOREWORD

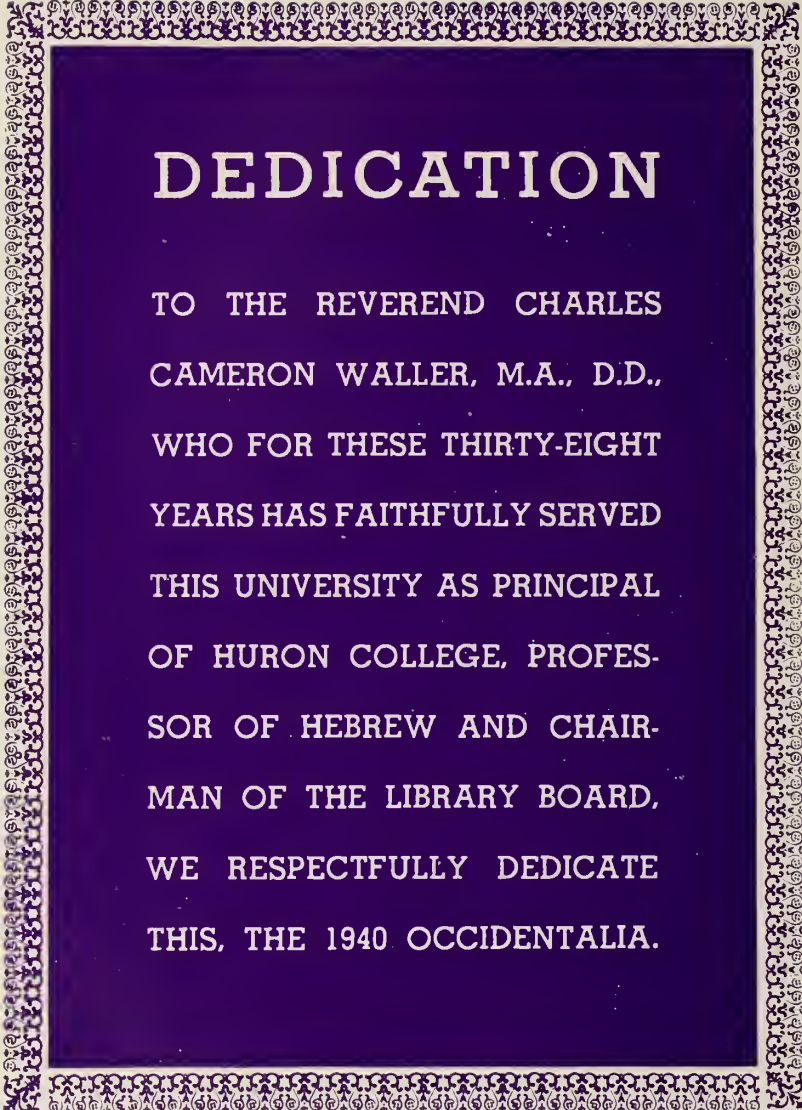

"THE MOVING FINGER WRITES; AND, HAVING WRIT, MOVES ON." THE PAGES TURN AND THE PASSING YEAR IS BUT A MEMORY, A MISTY MONTAGE OF THE HOPES AND FEARS THAT FILLED OUR LIFE AT WESTERN. THERE IS A GRAVER LIFE OUTSIDE, WHERE WESTERN'S NAME WILL SHINE IN STEADILY INCREASING BRILLIANCE; BUT FOR THOSE WHO STAND ON THE THRESHOLD OF THIS LIFE, THIS BOOK WILL BE A LAMP BY WHOSE MAGIC THEY CAN RECAPTURE THOSE CAREFREE DAYS THEY LOVED SO WELL . . . AT WESTERN.

MEMBERS OF CLASS '40:

IN ORDINARY TIMES OF PEACE TO COMPRESS A GRADUATION MESSAGE INTO A BRIEF WORD IS A BAFFLING TASK. IN TIMES OF WAR THE DIFFICULTY IS MAGNIFIED MANY TIMES OVER, SINCE THE MESSAGE MUST HAVE A DUAL BEARING—UPON THE CONSECRATION OF LIFE AND TALENT TO ASSURING THE NATION'S VICTORY AS WELL AS UPON THE PROBLEMS OF ORDINARY LIVING. FRANKLY, I AM UTTERLY INCOMPETENT TO SPEAK AN ADEQUATE WORD. HOWEVER, MAY I BE PERMITTED TO OFFER A BORROWED WORD, A WORD THAT GIVES COURAGE AGAINST THE THING NOW TO BE MOST FEARED BY EVERYBODY—THE WEAKENING OF EFFORT UNDER THE INFLUENCE OF HEART-SICKENING SETBACKS AND THE AGONIZING DEFERMENT OF VICTORY? IT WAS WRITTEN BY A GREAT LATINIST OF THE SIXTEENTH CENTURY; SIR JOHN STRADLING'S QUAINTE SEVENTEENTH CENTURY TRANSLATION OF IT ONLY ADDS TO ITS FORCE.

"BUT THOU, YOUNG MAN, IF THOU BE ADUISED BY ME, SHALT STAND TO IT, AND SET SURE FOOTING AGAINST THIS THY ADUERSARIE SORROW. ABOVE ALL THINGS IT BEHOOUEETH THEE TO BE CONSTANT; FOR BY FIGHTING MANY MAN HATH GOTTEN THE VICTORY, BUT NONE BY FLEEING."

W. SHERWOOD FOX.

W. SHERWOOD FOX.

TO THE CLASS OF '40,
UNIVERSITY COLLEGE.

SOMEONE HAS RECENTLY SAID THAT THERE ARE FOUR POINTS THAT MARK THE AREA OF A MAN: ABILITY, ACTION, ENDURANCE, RELIABILITY. TO ME THE LAST IS THE MOST VITAL OF THE FOUR. ABILITY IS NATIVE, ACTION AND ENDURANCE ARE LARGELY PHYSICAL AND GLANDULAR; RELIABILITY IS THE VERY SOUL OF A MAN OR WOMAN. NOWHERE CAN IT BE CULTIVATED BETTER THAN IN SCHOOL OR COLLEGE. IF THE QUALITY IS NOT IN EVIDENCE BY THE TIME OF GRADUATION IT IS LIKELY TO BE MISSING PERMANENTLY. WE HOPE THAT YOU HAVE BEEN INSPIRED BY YOUR WORK IN CLASS AND OUT, BY YOUR PLAY, AND EVEN BY YOUR CONSPICUOUS IDLENESS, TO BUILD INTO YOUR VERY FIBRE THE ESSENCE OF RELIABILITY. WE CAN WISH YOU NOTHING BETTER AS YOU GO FORTH FROM YOUR ALMA MATER.

SINCERELY,

K. P. R. NEVILLE,
DEAN.

To the Graduates of 1940:

As you have learned from your serious studies of the past the course of world affairs is always moving in some direction. Therefore, with the entrance of the graduates of 1940 into the maelstrom of human activities there is announced a new era whose direction will be determined by you and your use of your latent powers. Ideas, inventions, leadership as yet unheard of have been germinated within you during your years of college study. Develop them in order to lead the world onward and upward and to bring honour to your Alma Mater who has nurtured you and who wishes you Godspeed.

DOROTHY TURVILLE,
Adviser to Women.

To the Graduates of 1940:

The final year of your undergraduate education has been marked by Canada and the British Empire at War. Your subsequent graduate education, including internship in hospital, will in all probability be carried on in a world shaken by war and social changes. Profound social, political, spiritual and economic forces have been stirred to their depths.

You may however take solace in the thought that the medical profession has, during the history of the human race, always played an active, useful and creditable part in the affairs of men whether in peace or in war. As a member of this old and honoured profession you too can play your part.

The University sends you forth with faith in your endeavour.

F. J. H. CAMPBELL,
Dean, Faculty of Medicine.

To the Graduates of 1940:

There can be but little true progress in any country without advanced educational systems and we are indeed fortunate to live in a country which encourages each individual to accept an education up to the limits of his or her capacity.

Advanced education applied to a specific subject such as nursing, trains the individual to think for herself and to become of greater service in her profession.

Much constructive work remains to be accomplished in the field of nursing and we look to you to uphold the excellent record established in that direction by the graduates of the University Nursing Courses.

A. J. SLACK, Dean,
Faculty of Public Health.

To My Fellow Graduates:

Greetings, congratulations and good wishes. As you pass this significant milestone in life and step out to face the unknowns of a sadly disordered world you, as well as all of us, who are called to be leaders, need the companionship of the great Trio. Their names are Faith, Hope and Charity. Faith is a shield, Hope is a helmet and Charity or Love is the Fruit of the Spirit of God, which never fails. It is the foundation of all true relationships with our fellow-men and with God.

So may the Love of God be with you all for ever.

C. CAMERON WALLER,
Principal of Huron College.

To the Graduates of 1940:

To be a sceptic is to cause or at least to contribute towards the making of chaos in our practical lines. Economic and social sciences cannot be ordered to human ends unless they are rooted in and nourished by a pervading wisdom that rules and directs them. To live properly as moral beings and to work out our eternal salvation demands as a prerequisite that our culture and civilization be endued with a light that will bring an eternal element into these actions of ours which pass in time, and this light is theological and philosophical truth. If order is caused by truth in operation, you, the graduates of 1940, have the task of refashioning a disordered world. It can be done by wisdom, that wisdom which your College has tried to form and foster in your minds. Replace prevailing custom with an unshakeable confidence in the power of the intellect to know truth. Put the directive force of truth into the world in which you live. Charged with this task your College bids you Godspeed.

REV. T. A. MacDonald, C.S.B.,
President of Assumption College.

To the Graduates of 1940:

It must be quite apparent to you, who have attained to the honours of graduation, that your intellectual training was only a part—and a minor part—of the education which this institution sought to impart to you. For real education is a preparation for complete living. It consists essentially in training a man for what he must be and what he must do in order to reach the destiny for which he was created. Therefore the inculcating of moral principles, the fostering of habits of virtue, in a word—the formation of character became for your teachers the all-important task. The measure of your success in profiting by this moral training will be known only after life has subjected you to many a hard trial and soul-searching examination. It is our hope and prayer that you will not be found wanting.

ANDREW P. MAHONEY,
Rector.

Salute to the Class of 1940!

My farewell message is suggested by the lines of James Russel Lowell:

"In life's small things be resolute and great
To keep thy muscles trained. Knowest thou when fate
Thy measure takes, or when she'll say to thee:
I find thee worthy; do this thing for me!"

Many are becoming the prey of frustration and futility. Their mood is pessimistic, convinced that the world has let them down. What, if they are right? When did infidelity justify infidelity; or since when do two wrongs make one right? Canada still is the land of opportunity. Various and real are frontiers which beckon. Perhaps it calls for more imagination, alertness, courage and faith to see these frontiers today than it did in the so-called "good old times". Leaners, drifters, flabby in head and heart, never did and never will see opportunity anywhere. Even were a chance thrust into their hand, they could not measure up, lacking grit and stamina.

You enter the arena of life with muscle, mind, and heart well trained. Commit to memory the lines of Lowell and keep fit! The world is not your oyster; it is your training quarters. The struggle will challenge all that you have; because of it you will be stronger. Meticulous attention to the little things, the details, makes for perfection. "He that is faithful in that which is least is faithful also in much; and he that is unjust in the least is unjust also in much."

F. B. CLAUSEN,
President of Waterloo College.

To the Graduates of 1940:

While music has so far received no academic recognition in our University, we feel that the interest is growing.

The Artists' Concerts, given by Muriel Dickson of the Metropolitan Opera, and Vronsky and Babin, the renowned two-piano team, received added University flavour by being held in Convocation Hall rather than in a downtown auditorium.

The Orpheus Society activities have attracted the attention of additional students, and the orchestra guided by Mrs. Zoë Addy-Watson has taken on new life this year. The performance of the Haydn Creation which will have taken place by the time this goes to print will give the Glee Club the opportunity of taking part in a large chorus of a hundred or more in the production of a musical masterpiece.

Some activity has also been inaugurated in the matter of the study of theory and piano playing.

May our standards be kept high so that the graduates of Western will eventually look back on their musical activities as giving them something of value to carry with them throughout the years to come.

HARVEY ROBB,
Musical Director.

To the Class of 1940:

Your graduation from the University is a happy and also a solemn crisis in your lives. It is no occasion for boasting, for platitude, or for adulation.

I wish you all lots of work, plenty of fun, and of leisure enough that you may spare some for other work. May you enjoy as much happiness as you try to create for others, and success in proportion to the reach of your sympathies. I hope that you have learned here chiefly how little you know; that knowledge, avidly sought, honestly faced, courageously acted upon, is the only sure bond between men and between peoples; and that if democracy means anything action is required of all, irrespective of gaps in knowledge, desire for advancement, or the despicable security of the mugwump.

You have enjoyed privileges denied to many who could make as good use of them as yourselves. You will be regarded as leaders as you should be. Thus your responsibilities are doubled. Neither rationalize them into inaction, nor prostitute them to selfishness, nor evade them by paternalism or philanthropy.

You are new wine. Society, politics, business, even organized religion, will pour you into old bottles. If you let them.

I have higher hopes of you.

R. E. K. PEMBERTON,
Honorary President, Arts '40.

CLASS HISTORY - ARTS '40

"The time has come," the Walrus said, "to speak of many things.

"Of graduation, bread-lines and things."

—The Walrus.

Arts '40 broke on Western with great gusto. In our four years here we can at least boast of the questionable honour of having been the most commented on, if not the most viciously maligned, "Year". In September, 1936, we received a somewhat dubious welcome from Arts '39. This initiation started Freshie Gordon Taylor on the first of a long series of protests. These protests reached a peak of distinction three years later when a similar action almost resulted in the closing of the University by the Provincial Government.

In the fall of our first year we received all the routine warnings: speeding on the drive, throwing lunches around Room 2, breaking furniture in Room 19 and dating college co-eds. We remember, even then, beefing about Cafeteria meals and prejudiced student courts. Early in our first term Jim Orr was given the questionable honour of being elected the first president of Arts '40 in the history of the University. These first elections marked the beginning of our period of high pressure politics and resulted in the largest vote polled in Freshman elections up to that time.

Ken Mooney, after cloistering himself with Brown's column for our first three months, finally decided he had absorbed enough college wit to write his own nonsense. He burst forth in late 1936 with the efforts that later were to degenerate into "Joe College". Alf Hurley, during the same period, was laying the foundations that were later to make him Western's number one student athlete. He found a place in athletic and scholastic headlines in his first year and has consistently held it.

In the spring of '37 the Girls' Senior Basketball team won "the bronze baby" for the second consecutive time and they've hogged it pretty well ever since. The Women's Council, with Dr. Turville as foreman, were about to pick up shovels and dig the foundations for a Women's Union Building. They still are. With a little more money and some co-operation from belligerent nations they'll do it yet. Our first year closed with Terry Ferris being elected new president and Frances Boyce, vice-president.

In the fall of '37, our second year, we initiated Arts '41, only to find that a third Taylor had arrived to swell the two-man chorus against initiation. The rest of us continued to enjoy making the Frosh look silly. It wasn't very hard. About this time, Johnny Loaring, prominent member of Arts '40, ran off to Australia. After things had settled down again at Western he came back to train for the Olympic Games and further distinguished himself. We remember Western University's radio broadcast, Avis Clarke shaming Don Redman with her super band-leading, marriage proposals to co-eds, Mooney co-editing the Jazette (and that killed the Jazette for a couple of years), the abolition of initiation, and the student court still remaining a hotbed of dissatisfaction. At the end of second term Terry was re-elected year president and Marjorie Featherstone took over the vice-presidency.

Our third year opened with John Hunt and Art Lennox collaborating with Bill Bramah in the editing of the Gazette. Features of the year were the appearance of afternoon riots (i.e. dances) in Convocation Hall; Oliphant, Hilton, Hurley and Faust starring with the Mustangs in the intercollegiate rugby finals; Sadie Hawkins first striking terror into the hearts of Western "he-men"; the Band being at last recognized as Canada's leading College gridiron entertainment; Bill Craig strutting his stuff as a cheer-leader and Frances Boyce sponsoring a youth hostel movement whereby everybody was to go on long hikes from here to there and back again. Don Pearce, that fall, edited the "Literary Supplement" in such a way that he was asked for an encore in 1939. Gord Taylor, Alf Hurley, Peggy Sturman and Fred Hill were elected to the U.S.C. and Terry and Doris Eagles became the new Prefect and Sub-Prefect. Percy Lee took over the presidency of the year and Marj. Featherstone hung on to her vice-presidency.

That third year closed with such a bang that fourth year very nearly didn't open. The Protest Campaign was the biggest awakening in Western history. It was a broadside of banners, posters, parades, speeches, pamphlets, radio broadcasts, balloons, hitch-hiking, letters and Mr. Hepburn. Mooney organized a band that blew much sweeter the night before than the morning after. Jock Stewart was the star trumpeter (i.e. the night before). Arts '40 planned and carried out the Protest Campaign and we defy any other year to beat it.

Before classes resumed in 1939, war was declared and the world suddenly took on a little different appearance. As if that were not bad enough, it was eventually revealed that Arts '40 had placed the University in the hands of a series of bad-men. The editor of the Gazette had become an irresponsible scamp of fickle identity. The Prefect had difficulty keeping his Assembly in hand and the U.S.C. developed its own autocracy. To top all our worries Art Lennox returned from his vacation behind what he claimed was a red, aristocratic beard—needless to say it was later removed at a pre-rugby game fracas. To celebrate our final year the Mustangs won the intercollegiate title without losing a single game. Alf Hurley won the McCullagh trophy and Ralph Blackmore won the McCullagh. The Taylors ran campaigns against secret trials, the Gazette, the Prefect, the Honour Society, etc.

Conway, after three years of solitary sulking, assumed the editorship of the Commerce Quarterly and turned in the finest job to date. Carlton added to his fame as a dance convenor by putting on his supreme effort, the Arts '40 dance. The war first dipped into our undergraduates with both John Rider and Bill Archer leaving University to join the army. Haggie, who had been bent on becoming "first lady of Arts '40", was foiled by Mary Hayman who cut classes for a couple of days to go and get married. Our beautiful sub-prefect demonstrated the diversity of her talents by modelling for national stocking advertising. Fellowships were won by several of our members, first blood going to Clyde MacDonald, star pianist of our year. Graduation loomed in sight and pre-exam cramming began again. After four years we almost had it down to a science. Notable feature of graduation was our unique female geologist, strictly an Arts '40 product. Peg Sturman was the baby graduate; she won't be eligible for the old age pension until 1986.

It was great while it lasted, the pity is that finally we must leave. However, in our brief four years we have accumulated enough material for all the Arts '40 bull sessions that can be held from now until eternity. Remember the shock you got the first time you lifted the receiver and switchboard greeted you with a deep bass voice (Gladish and Hill)? Remember that indefinable something known as the "Spoils System", so ably exposed by the editor of the Gazette? Remember Mooney and Taylor, after vainly trying to "cover" for each other, escaping in a canoe down a swollen Thames? Remember

MEDICINE

To the Graduates of 1940:

In these troubled times, with the civilized world in chaos, graduation may seem, at first glance, to be a step into the dark.

"Fear not! Life still leaves human effort scope"; the fields for service are always white unto harvest; sickness and suffering are ever with us; opportunity constantly beckons the good physician.

How to be one? The answer is simple, attainment difficult. So live that, when you have finished your "walk through life", you may say with Osler:

"I have loved no darkness,
Sophisticated no truth,
Nursed no delusion,
Allowed no fear."

DR. CHARLES A. CLINE, Jr.,
Honourary President Meds '40.

CLASS HISTORY - MEDS '40

"That I will lead my life and practise my Profession in uprightness and honour."

When Meds '40 first enrolled the year of graduation seemed as remote and inaccessible as the year 1934 now appears. But at last it has rolled around. Of the thirty-nine originals, twenty-two have fallen by the way, but new members have swelled our ranks to the grand total of twenty-nine.

Meds '40 has done nothing new or startling in the way of University activities but its members have contributed to them freely and fully of their time.

How well we all remember our first registration day. How lost we felt in this strange new environment, how we thought we might never be able to start the course because those registration forms almost baffled comprehension. But soon we were lost in a whirl of lectures and labs, frogs and dogfish, fumes and formulae and their exams and more exams.

But life really began in our second year when we came down to the Medical School. This was our proper level. How proud we were to be known as Dirty Meds and to scorn each and every Arts student as a pantywaist. This year we also began our various extra-curricular activities in earnest. Our basketball team, which won the championship for three years running, was our pride and joy. But, like all great teams, our aging members went down to defeat graciously at the hands of younger players. To volleyball we have also contributed leading players who are still guiding the younger men in championship games outside the school. In hockey, Meds '40 was a flop, but we gave our opponents a laugh and a good time. In boxing and in football we have contributed our share. The thrill of a lifetime came when the Mustangs gave us the championship as a graduation present.

Socially we have had our moments. Perhaps we are best known for the Snowball dance in our second year. It was magnificent but expensive. We are still paying for it. Dan Cupid has found his mark in five of our members who have banded together into a club.

Of course Meds '40 has left its mark on the various publications, the governing bodies and the Osler Society.

We have also enjoyed the advantages of changes in the curriculum which have occurred during our course. Each year the Medical course is being made more and more practical. Our members have seen some of this and have contributed suggestions which are to be incorporated into future changes.

CLASS HISTORY - MEDS '40

Our class had the great misfortune to lose one of its members through death. George Kihick, one of the original members, succumbed in June 1939 after a long and courageous fight. He was one of our most versatile members, being prominent academically, athletically and socially. His death was a great loss to our class and we extend our heartfelt sympathy to his family.

At last we are finishing our final year. Much of the levity and carefree spirit of earlier years has been forgotten in a slowly-won feeling of responsibility which we acquired when we left the laboratory for the hospital ward. Unfortunately, the outbreak of war has rendered the future somewhat more obscure than it used to appear. However, the members of Meds '40 leave their Alma Mater for new fields with a feeling of gratitude towards their teachers. We have been thoroughly trained and are fully prepared to enter on the next phase. We realize humbly how little we know about the actual practice of medicine but we feel we are ready and able to carry on in a manner which will do credit to our Alma Mater, our teachers and ourselves.

HIPPOCRATIC OATH

I DO SOLEMNLY SWEAR, BY WHATEVER I HOLD
MOST SACRED:

THAT I WILL BE LOYAL TO THE PROFESSION OF MEDICINE AND JUST AND GENEROUS TO ITS MEMBERS:

THAT I WILL LEAD MY LIFE AND PRACTISE MY
PROFESSION IN UPRIGHTNESS AND HONOUR:

THAT INTO WHATSOEVER HOUSE I SHALL ENTER,
IT SHALL BE FOR THE GOOD OF THE SICK TO THE UTMOST OF MY POWER, HOLDING MYSELF FAR
ALOOF FROM WRONG, FROM CORRUPTION, FROM THE TEMPTING OF OTHERS TO VICE;

THAT I WILL EXERCISE MY PROFESSION SOLELY FOR THE CURE OF MY PATIENTS, AND WILL GIVE
NO DRUG, PERFORM NO OPERATION, FOR A CRIMI-NAL PURPOSE, EVEN IF SOLICITED, FAR LESS
SUGGEST IT;

THAT WHATSOEVER I SHALL SEE OR HEAR OF
THE LIVES OF MEN WHICH IS NOT FITTING TO BE SPOKEN, I WILL KEEP INVIOLEABLY SECRET.

THESE THINGS DO I SWEAR.

AND NOW, SHOULD I BE TRUE TO THIS MY OATH, MAY PROSPERITY AND GOOD REPUTE BE
EVER MINE; THE OPPOSITE, SHOULD I PROVE MYSELF
FORSWORN.

PUBLIC HEALTH

To the Graduates of 1940:

The history of the nursing profession has shown that since man has needed nursing care our interests and problems have been those of society as a whole. So today, large numbers of Canadian nurses have registered their loyal support for war service.

In your specialized fields of teaching and supervision in hospitals as well as in public health nursing, yours will be in service to the civilian population whose needs are as great as in peace times. They also must be served.

Though the time spent with us seemed all too short, we feel we have come to know your special abilities. We are confident you will meet your responsibilities willingly with dignity and efficiency.

ALMA

Alma College is delighted to be included in the big Western family and to appear for the first time in Occidentalia. While there are few undergraduates at Alma, we have many common interests and pleasant contacts. The Faculty and the students of Alma join me in presenting our Greetings and Best Wishes to the Graduating Class and to all members of the University.

P. S. DOBSON,
Principal.

ASSUMPTION

CLASS HISTORY - 1940

To the untold number of Assumption supporters, patrons, alumni, faculty and students, this year is of special significance. Without exception the members of this graduating class have had the privilege of being very intimately associated with each other during the whole four years. This is responsible for the bonds of friendship and love which exist and which, I trust, will continue to exist in years to come. With these ties, this graduating class has pledged itself to further that eternal friendly relationship that exists between Americans and Canadians and which has been so predominantly cultivated by this institution in the past seventy years.

Every member is justly proud of the school motto,—"Teach Me Goodness, Discipline and Knowledge". I am unable to express our sentiments, our feeling of thankfulness for these gifts which we have received. We do realize, with all frankness, how essential these are in the molding of our respective careers.

Every graduate is very appreciative of the opportunities he has been offered in the different fields. Not only has he had the chance to further his intellectual knowledge but through participation in college athletics and college extra-curricular activities he has further developed his physical, educational and religious qualities.

We have participated during these short years in the various societies which undoubtedly have developed for us a personality which will give us a distinguished place among our fellow men.

This graduating class leaves its Alma Mater with an apparent, but not actual, separation. We have, in all sincerity, a union which has been developed in the past four years by our adherence to such inspiring ideals as Goodness, Discipline and Knowledge.

VERITAS

You who go out of Ursuline College in 1940 face a world of unusual struggle and of uncommon problems. In the struggle, may you find the honest cause, the cause of God's justice, and fight for it. May you front the issue bravely and unselfishly. You will have great need for bravery and you will triumph only in unselfishness. In solving your problems, economic, social, and spiritual, may you ever test your answers by the norm of truth. "What is truth?" a cowardly politician once asked of the Prince of Truth. Unhappy Pilate, in that important hour, did not wait for an answer. But, graduates of 1940, you must wait. When you cry out in the darkness, "Lord, that I may see!" open your eyes. The changeless, eternal, absolute Truth will unveil to your pleading. The Light will glow for you. The Splendour will shine and bless dull clods and gray caves. Burst of vision once showed a seer

"the traffic of Jacob's ladder
Pitched betwixt Heaven and Charing Cross."

A share in that vision is for you. God give you sight!

CONSERVATORY

The purpose of the Western Ontario Conservatory of Music, which is the affiliated music institution of the University, is to encourage music students of our part of the province to look to our own University for its standards and teaching facilities and to give their allegiance to their own institution. Much has already been accomplished, and many important institutions are giving us their support. In addition to private teachers and to members of our own teaching staff, the following have already taken part in our academic work:

Alma College, St. Thomas
 Kitchener Conservatory of Music
 Simcoe Conservatory of Music
 Ursuline Academy, Windsor
 Glengarda, Windsor
 St. Joseph's Convent, Windsor
 Sacred Heart Convent, London

St. Angela's College, London
 St. Joseph's Convent, Goderich
 St. Joseph's Convent, Simcoe
 St. Joseph's Academy, Woodstock
 St. Joseph's Convent, Ingersoll
 St. Joseph's Convent, Seaforth
 "The Pines", Chatham

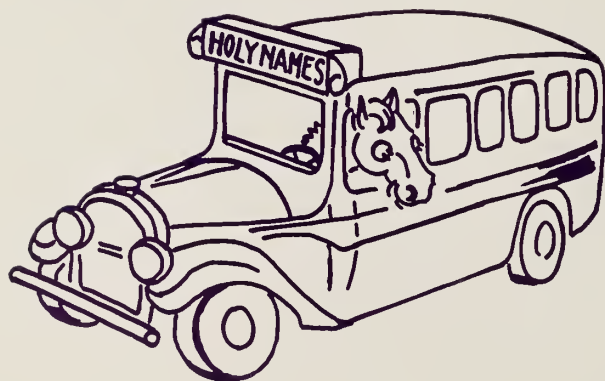

When the activities of the Conservatory are such as to prove the need, there is no question that our University will provide courses and credits that will give the students the standing they would like to have without necessarily having to go far afield.

Arrangements will eventually be made to seek out extreme talents and to provide means for fostering and publicizing these worthy cases.

All universities are finding it necessary to recognize music in their academic curricula and it is to be hoped that the citizens of Western Ontario will take pride in an institution of their own.

HOLY NAMES

TO OUR GRADUATES

Dear College Graduates:

You live in epochal times. Never before has the clash of ideals so ominously resounded throughout the world — never before have these ideals so clearly shaped themselves into two opposing forces. There seems to be no place today for the temporizer or the neutral-minded. Both have been challenged to step aside from "No Man's Land" and choose their definite sphere of action. This choice is a fateful one, and we await the outcome with bated breath though sure of the eventual triumph of spiritual strength against brute force.

But your teachers are interested in another struggle, for well do they know that the highest glory or the darkest tragedy in each individual life is the upholding or the surrender of lofty ideals. The acid test of constancy is the power of self-sacrifice for Truth and Duty. May these two words, dear Graduates, be the Labarum which leads you on to the achievement of your souls' high destiny.

HURON

CLASS HISTORY - 1940

"Now, my co-mates and brothers in exile"

Though Huron sends only eight men to Convocation this year, she sends men of enthusiasm and ability, men varied in outlook and ambition, and, what's more, men with a story to tell.

It is now forty-two months since the present class, groping on hands and knees through ghostly corridors, found its way to the baptismal font in the College cellar. Many unforgettable experiences have filled the interval. For instance, there was the "theolog" who spent most of one night under a bed in the attic . . . and the freshman whose rafter-rendering scream has not yet evaporated from the College timbers . . . and the occasion when the year (then appareled in its sophomore dignity) kept careful guard in Leckie's room while one of our number was modestly, if protestingly, tubbed in the room below by enterprising freshmen.

The autumn of '37 saw the class strengthened by the addition of an eminent track and field star whose spectacular end-runs made Huron a baffling foe on the inter-faculty rugby campus. During the same year several of our men participated actively in the programs of the Orpheus Society, the Debating Club, the Science Club and Theatre Nights, thereby continuing Huron's traditional support of University functions.

1938-39 witnessed half of our number doing excellent intern work at St. Joseph's Hospital, and it is surreptitiously reported that at least a third of us were highly successful and continue to be! But now that we were lofty Juniors, and were beginning to look up in the world, it seemed fitting that we should distinguish ourselves in the maturer sports of carpet-bowling, bridge, table-tennis and bull-sessions, producing from our midst college leaders in each field. No one will ever forget those fantastic moments when '40 men would waft unerring bowls from one end of the common-room to the other, amid the gasps of incredulous spectators!

The spring of 1940 brings us unimpaired, if somewhat sobered, almost to the end of our collective existence as a year. But however divergent, in the future, our individual lives may be, we shall always possess many common memories and experiences that will remain unalterable, providing us, as a group, with an inspiring slogan . . . "sure, I was at Huron".

ST. PETER'S

ST. PETER'S SEMINARY

COLLEGE OF ARTS

With the beginning of the present academic year St. Peter's Seminary opened a new chapter in its comparatively short but eventful history. September 1939 brought the completion of a new direct affiliation between the Seminary and the University of Western Ontario. The announcement of this new affiliation caused some surprise to many who had taken for granted that such an arrangement had already been in operation for some years. But such was not the case, and a brief review of the events leading to this final act should be set down in order.

Up to the present year the students in arts courses from St. Peter's Seminary had been registered annually in the University through Ursuline College. This arrangement, which was meant to be only temporary, was begun in 1923 when the late Bishop Fallon, founder of the Seminary, decided to add an Arts Faculty designed to train students in philosophy in preparation for their theological studies. The theological department of the Seminary was founded in the year 1912. The plan was highly successful. Each year an increasing number of students with their degrees of Bachelor of Arts in Honour Philosophy have passed into theology for the final four years of training for the priesthood.

During the intervening years the Seminary staff gradually assumed a greater share in the teaching of all subjects on the course. This had been the intention from the start but its realization was not immediately possible since it required additional special training of staff members to undertake the task. The older graduates have pleasant memories of the years during which they were privileged to attend lectures at the University. The names of the late Professor Auden and many others who are still at their posts are held in affectionate remembrance by those who had the good fortune to pass under their scholarly influence.

Accordingly, during the past year the request for direct affiliation was submitted to the Senate of the University. Satisfied that the Seminary had met all the University's requirements for staffing a college of Liberal Arts, the Senate recommended to the

COLLEGE OF ARTS

Board of Governors that the Seminary be admitted to affiliation. The Board accepted the recommendation and the new college received the title: St. Peter's Seminary College of Arts.

This brief sketch of the history of St. Peter's philosophical department inevitably brings to mind the cordial relations which have always been maintained between the Seminary and the University. The authorities of the latter institution have always met our requests with a fine spirit of co-operation and absolute impartiality of treatment. St. Peter's Seminary gratefully acknowledges this latest gesture of approval and confidence and values highly the closer ties that result from the new agreement.

WATERLOO

To the Graduating Class of 1940:

One of the aims of an institution of higher education is the encouragement and promotion of better thinking by all who have ever dwelt within its walls. And therefore my desire for you is that you may go forth from Waterloo College with the ability and determination to think in every way not only more clearly and critically, but also more kindly and sympathetically, than when you entered upon your college life. Only then may we who have worked with you and for you feel confident that we have been able to pass on to you and share with you the best of our intellectual heritage.

God bless you in the realization of this aim and in a fuller fruition of it in your future work.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS' COMMISSION

The University Students' Commission is the student governing body which controls all student matters concerning the University of Western Ontario as a whole. It is composed of four representatives from the College of Arts, two from the Medical School and one from the Institute of Public Health. Its income is equal to the combined income of the various student governing bodies of the above mentioned faculties.

Since the inception of the U.S.C., its offices have been considered sinecures and treated as such. Duties and powers rightfully under the jurisdiction of the Commission were forgotten by it. The orphaned powers were used and abused by unelected students. The Commission of 1938-39 set up a sound financial system. Using this as our start we tried to restore to the U.S.C. functions rightfully belonging to it, functions illegally married to irresponsible students.

We established a Centralized Advertising Managership; Mr. Ken Mooney received the appointment. His job was to solicit advertising for all student publications except the Medical Journal. Because of his genius and hard work, the advertising in student publications was increased by well over eleven hundred dollars. By the time this book reaches the students, all publications will be free from debt.

All in all our Commission made rather extensive changes in the policy of the U.S.C. and its constitution. Realizing that the names Don Wright and U.W.O. Band are synonymous, realizing that he is a necessity so far as the band is concerned, we doubled the nominal remuneration that he used to get. Our commendable generosity was extended to the intermediate rugby team. For the first time in the history of Western University, they, as well as the seniors, were given free tickets to the Rugby Dance.

By means of changes in our Constitution, we centralized the business affairs of all publications. This was done in order to prevent University publications from running into debt without the knowledge of the Students' Commission. Summoning our best autocratic manner we took over the appointment of the editor of the University of Western Ontario Gazette. With utter abandon we freed the income of the U.S.C. from the whims of the S.A.A. and Hippocratic Council and then presented ourselves with an independent constitution.

Our Commission took on and was responsible for the Protest Campaign against the government cut in our provincial grant (Spring 1939). By means of a radio broadcast, pamphlet raids on Western Ontario (by aeroplane, His Majesty's Mail and balloon barrages), house-to-house canvassing, and three thousand letters, tons of long-distance telephone calls and telegrams, a protest parade in which ninety per cent of our students took part, banners, letters, and articles in all Ontario newspapers, and a hitch-hiking tour, we finally got a ten-minute interview with the Minister of Education and almost lost our entire government grant. The Protest Campaign, the like of which has never before been seen in this province, resulted in a petition with well over 20,000 signatures and produced a wonderful school spirit. We were all ready for a bang-up campaign for a field house this fall when Hitler refused us his co-operation by bringing on a war.

Our Commission has initiated changes in the U.S.C. It will take a strong Commission to see them through. I think you have one, and I wish them, on behalf of their predecessors, the best of luck. Good, bad or indifferent we surely have been notorious. I hope our successors will inherit a halo, shun autocracy and, above all, destroy our "spoils system", (to which, incidentally, we claim sole rights).

THE STUDENTS' ADMINISTRATIVE ASSEMBLY

At first glance it would appear that the Students' Administrative Assembly accomplished little other than stormy sessions during their various meetings throughout the past year. Criticism, whether constructive or destructive, has served its purpose to awaken in the minds of the students of this University the realization that there is such a thing as Student Government. I look back upon the past year with satisfaction at the accomplishments of our S.A.A.

Our term of office had scarcely begun when the S.A.A., the U.S.C. and the Hippocratic Society united in their efforts to protest against the Provincial Government's cut in the University grant. This was one of the greatest factors in rejuvenating our dormant school spirit.

The programme carried on by the S.A.A. was a most extensive one. After much discussion, it was decided that we should drop from the N.F.C.U.S., as we had anticipated the present conflict between the N.F.C.U.S. and the C.S.A. The Disciplinary Committee was enlarged. The system of the Student Court was altered to give experience to future senior judges. Further, the Code of Student Discipline and the Constitution of the Student Court were revised and brought up to date. Afternoon dances became a definite part of our college programme, when the Year Executives rather than the S.A.A. sponsored these dances. The ever-conflicting problem between the athletic W's and those worn on year sweaters was definitely cleared up with the prohibition of W's of any type upon year sweaters. Previously conflicting issues between the S.A.A. and the U.S.C. were eliminated to a great extent. It is our ardent belief that due to the work of the past S.A.A., the relations between these two bodies have been more definitely delineated.

May I take this opportunity of extending my sincere thanks for the kind co-operation of the members of the S.A.A., the Executive Cabinet and especially our gracious Sub-Prefect, Miss Doris Eagles.

HIPPOCRATIC COUNCIL

The Hippocratic Society is composed of all the undergraduates registered in Medicine with the exception of the first year. The Hippocratic Council is the elected governing body of the Society. The Council consists of four annually elected executive officers whose term extends through the calendar year, and the class presidents who hold office during the school year.

The Council is in charge of all undergraduate activities. They are also concerned with the strengthening of relations between Medical Students and the Faculty, the University College and the other Universities.

During the past year the Hippocratic Society lost its most enthusiastic and loyal supporter—the late Dr. John A. Macgregor, Professor Emeritus of Medicine. Only those who had the privilege of associating with him in clinical work and school activities realize fully the great loss. Dr. Macgregor exemplifies Osler's words, "The great possession of any university is its great names".

The Council and through it the whole Society sincerely thank Dr. J. H. Fisher, Honourary President of the Council, Dean F. J. H. Campbell, and our genuine friend, Dr. J. W. Crane, for their efforts in the interests of the students.

In closing I would ask the undergraduates to be always mindful of the privilege they enjoy in attending Medical School. The Arts Students may howl "Dirty Meds", but they do so with both respect and envy.

UNDERGRADUATE WOMEN'S COUNCIL

The Undergraduate Women's Organization has again achieved much success during the year 1939-40.

Under the leadership of Doris Eagles and Frances Boyce it has accomplished considerable. With the Big and Little Sister Movement in the fall, the organization introduces the Freshettes to University life. The rugby season brings on such enterprises as selling colours, hot dogs and coffee. Later on come the Freshette Tea, then Skitter Night, a night of fun for all women students, and the organization's major event, the Co-Ed Prom. The proceeds from this, together with those from the sales at rugby games, are put toward the ever-increasing fund for the Women's Union Building.

COMMERCE QUARTERLY BOARD

Seven years ago a group in the Commerce Club believed that the publication of a journal would fill a definite need in the Department of Business Administration. The first year a mimeographed "Journal of Commerce" appeared. The following year, with the generous support of the Commerce Club, a more ambitious "Quarterly" was produced. Since that time, the quality of this publication has continually improved.

In the fall of '39 it was felt that the task of producing a good business journal would be considerably facilitated by the existence of an Advisory Board. A group of representative business administration students were selected for this Board. Roughly their duties were to assist in the preparation of editorial policy and to provide a training ground for future editors and business managers. It was also felt that the Board would serve as a means of giving recognition to outstanding students. The success of the "Quarterly Review of Commerce" during the past year has been due in no small measure to the work of this Board.

MEDICAL JOURNAL

Sir Wm. Osler, one of the most prolific writers that the Medical Profession has ever known, gave the following advice to his students: "Take notes; publish, make yourself known." The Journal has attempted to give the students just such an opportunity.

In its ten years of existence, the Journal has risen to an enviable position among the undergraduate journals on this continent. We feel that its measure of success is due in great part to the kind advice of our Faculty advisors. The Editorial Staff wishes to take this opportunity to thank them for their guidance.

To the Alumni, we hope that the Journal will continue to furnish a means of contact between them and their Alma Mater. As to the future of the Journal, we rest assured; it has become very much a part of the undergraduate activity at the Medical School.

STUDENTS' HANDBOOK

The purpose of the Student Handbook and Directory is well known to every student and is, perhaps, most fully realized during those early weeks in the fall, when the editor is striving to accumulate the necessary facts and arrange for their publication, while all the rest of the student body has but one thought concerning the Handbook: "When will it come out?"

Through this publication the U.S.C. places in the hands of each student much information which the individual would find difficult to locate by himself.

As in any publication, no end of difficulties present themselves for solution. The more of them there are, the greater is the experience gained. However, when the task is complete, it is with satisfaction that we view our finished product. No matter how others may judge it, we value it for the time and work which it has entailed—time which we feel has been profitably spent and work which we have enjoyed.

ORPHEUS SOCIETY

The Orpheus Society was formed two years ago to sponsor musical activity among the students of our University. The membership is made up of undergraduates who feel that, through their organized effort, overlapping of musical interests can be avoided.

It is very important that the students should express their wishes in the matter of a musical program. This can best be done by participation in the activities of this society. It is our aim to present to the student body the type of good music which they desire. To this end we will always welcome new members, especially those who are keen enough to help in the planning and promoting of new musical enterprises.

The executive of the Orpheus Society, if so desired, will be very glad to co-operate with other organizations within the University with a view to furthering our common aims in serving the student body.

CENTRALIZED ADVERTISING MANAGER

In the spring of 1939 a group of students, worrying over the financial status of our publications, finally hit on the idea of establishing a Centralized Advertising Manager. The plan was carried out in the hope that one man, devoting all his time to the task, might increase the revenue of these publications. The results of the past year have indicated the possibilities of the new step. The publications have all increased in size and old debts have been fully paid. In the future, further increases in income may all be directly applied to the expansion of the various publications.

The record of the past year gives only a suggestion of what can be done and what will be done in future years. The Centralized Advertising Manager for 1939-40, Ray Keelan, has already shown how capably he will fill the position. May I wish him every success in this new endeavour and congratulate him on the capable manner in which he has taken over.

In closing I should like to express especial thanks to Jean Sutter and to the Secretarial Department. To one for whom the mysteries of a typewriter are as yet unsolved, their work in handling correspondence was invaluable.

KEN MOONEY.

FRATERNITIES

The Greek letter organizations were established on the campus of the University of Western Ontario primarily for the purpose of compensating in some small measure for the lack of university residence facilities.

Administrative control over fraternities and sororities is exercised by:

THE ADMINISTRATIVE COUNCIL:—consisting of the President of the University, the Deans of Arts, Medicine and Public Health, the Adviser to Women, and the Faculty Secretary;

THE INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL:—composed of two representatives of each fraternity and the Secretary of the Administrative Council;

PANHELLENIC COUNCIL:—composed of two representatives from each sorority, and the Adviser to Women.

Eligibility rules are based on academic standing and are common to all groups.

Nineteen-Thirty-Nine was a big rugby year at Western. It gave us our first championship since 1931. Every one of us who took part in the games thoroughly enjoyed the immense satisfaction of belonging to a championship squad. We also truly appreciated the support given us by the students of this University in our championship drive.

It is our earnest hope that the 1940 team may play a repeat performance and once more bring the Yates Trophy to rest at Western. To my successor, Claude Moore, captain of the 1940 squad, I wish all good fortune. I know he will lead the team on to the top in the campaign next fall.

LONDON, OCTOBER 7, 1939

In the first game of the 1939 schedule, the Mustangs romped to a 32-17 victory over Queen's. This game was outstanding: Captain Hurley played the first of six sixty-minute games; the Mustangs showed that they could come from behind to finish in a blaze of glory; the fame of Western's backfield and her sturdy line made the headlines.

KINGSTON, NOVEMBER 11, 1939

The last chapter of the 1939 rugby season closed with a thrilling win over Queen's 13-8. With three minutes to go in the last quarter the score was 7-8 for Queen's; Moore blocked a Queen's punt on the five-yard line—Oliphant romped over to make it 13-8 for Western. The Mustangs had won their second intercollegiate title.

"1939 was the year the Mustangs broke the Jinx of the Varsity Bowl" — thus it will be written in the history books! The vaunted Varsity Beavers took a drubbing to the tune of 23-5. The brilliant generalship of Captain Alf Hurley was in no small way responsible for the glowing victory.

LONDON, NOVEMBER 4, 1939

A record attendance of over 7,000 spectators saw the Mustangs whip the Beavers 15-1 on the occasion of the annual Varsity exodus to London. The flicker-dicker plays of Western's renowned back field, protected by an invincible front wall, kept the spectators on the alert for the unexpected.

The third game and the third victory of the all-conquering Mustangs was played at the expense of the Big Red Team from McGill. After the usual slow start the boys piled up a 25-7 score to preserve the untied-unbeaten record of Bill Storen's unbeatable Mustangs.

MONTREAL, OCTOBER 28, 1939

The first McGill game was one of the closest that the Mustangs played. The heavy McGill line was a constant worry to the Mustang rooters. A pass from Krol to Moore for a total gain of 65 yards was the highlight. As the final whistle blew, the scoreboard read 8-1 for another Mustang victory.

THROUGH THE YEARS

University of Western Ontario

London - Canada

1. Judging from the information available there is certain to be at the close of hostilities a heavy demand for men and women of ability and education to assist the nations of the world to restore their commerce and industry. It is well known that many of the universities in central Europe have been closed. There is already a shortage of medical men, engineers, chemists, biologists, etc. Professional men and trained business executives will be required in large numbers.

2. While the needs of the army, navy and air force are being met, it is imperative that increasing numbers of young men should prepare themselves for their future opportunities and responsibilities by procuring scientific training. Students in science subjects are urged, if at all possible, to complete their courses. This is in keeping with the policy of the British Government and that of the Governments of the Dominions.

3. Your King and your Country are calling for your trained and skilled services.

4. There never was a time in the history of the world when university-trained men and women were so badly needed as they are at this time.

5. The years devoted to a university course are happily divided into sections and time is allowed for recreation, athletics, social events and other opportunities for students to work and play together. Some of the most attractive features of a university course are the occasions provided for contacts with other ambitious and capable young men and women.

6. It is not as well known and appreciated as it should be by senior secondary school students that the University stands for certain things, namely, individual attention, thorough work, excellent associations and happy times.

7. Do you know that in these days of stress and perplexity a career is practically beyond the reach of anyone who is not university trained?

Osmiridium Tip Points in 4 Styles.

Duracrome, a new chromium alloy developed by Esterbrook, resists corrosion and permits fine grading of points. Osmiridium, a combination of osmium and iridium, is harder and more costly than ordinary iridium. This results in a nib virtually impervious to wear and affords a super-smooth writing point.

Push Pencil supplies a continuous flow of 24" of lead. Eliminates the annoyance of continuous refilling. Merely push the top and correct writing length of lead appears.
